The Comedy Spot Comedy Club's Stand-up Comedy Classes

About the Instructor

Dee Ann Kinkade has been teaching Stand-Up Comedy at the Comedy Spot Comedy Club for 3 years now. She has also been teaching for the Scottsdale Community College as well as privately for over six years. She is an accomplished screenwriter and cable TV producer for E! Entertainment Television.

Dee Ann Kinkade, who has performed live stand-up at The Comedy Store, Rascals Comedy Club, and more, will take you step by step through developing and performing your own original material. Good for every level performer. From novice to expert!

YOU WILL NOT FIND A MORE EXPERIENCED, PATIENT TEACHER IN THE VALLEY. Learn the art of creating visual one-liners, doing impressions, using props, even how to deal with hecklers. This course may be repeated several times for continued development of your comedic talent. Enrollment is limited; early registration is strongly recommended.

One on One with the "Pro's"

Each month, at the Comedy Spot Comedy Club stand-up classes, we feature a guest speaker. These are the real working pro's that not only headline at The Comedy Spot, but work around the country and the world performing stand-up comedy! They bring their years of experience to the table so our students can not only learn from their successes, but also their failures. They take the time to answer any questions the new or advanced comic can think of, and we are very proud to be able to make this a very exciting part of our curriculum.
